When I miss school, my opportunities disappear...

Missing just a few days of school a month can hurt a child’s math and reading skills or even their chance of graduating. Please help us reduce chronic absence.

Find out more at www.everystudentpresent.org/parents
How Can You Help Your Child?

Find out more at www.everystudentpresent.org/parents

For younger students:

• Know the school’s attendance policy and when school starts.
• Make sure your child has the required shots needed for school.
• Let your child meet teachers and classmates before school starts.
• Have a regular bed time and morning routine—lay out clothes the night before.
• Schedule medical appointments after school.
• Don’t plan extended trips when school is in session.
• Have a back-up plan for getting to school when something comes up.
• Have your child stay home only when truly sick.

For older students:

• Know the school’s attendance policy and when school starts.
• Talk with your child about acceptable and unacceptable behavior and grades.
• Encourage your child to be active in school by joining clubs or sports teams.
• Know your child’s friends.
• Ask your child how you can help.
• Have your child stay home only when truly sick.
If I’m not here, I can’t learn.

Missing just a few days of school a month can hurt a child’s math and reading skills or even their chance of graduating. Please help us reduce chronic absence.

Find out more at www.everystudentpresent.org/parents
How Can You Help Your Child?

Find out more at www.everystudentpresent.org/parents

For younger students:

• Know the school’s attendance policy and when school starts.
• Make sure your child has the required shots needed for school.
• Let your child meet teachers and classmates before school starts.
• Have a regular bed time and morning routine—lay out clothes the night before.
• Schedule medical appointments after school.
• Don’t plan extended trips when school is in session.
• Have a back-up plan for getting to school when something comes up.
• Have your child stay home only when truly sick.

For older students:

• Know the school’s attendance policy and when school starts.
• Talk with your child about acceptable and unacceptable behavior and grades.
• Encourage your child to be active in school by joining clubs or sports teams.
• Know your child’s friends.
• Ask your child how you can help.
• Have your child stay home only when truly sick.